Ohio Schools Ask Help With Food, Fuel Shortages

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Board of Education Monday asked federal and state officials to take steps to prevent a crisis in food and fuel for the state's 5,038 schools.

"Without immediate federal action neither school districts nor parents will be able financially to provide pupils, especially in Ohio's major urban centers and impoverished rural areas, with essential food," said Board President James Meckstroth.

The board asked the federal government to restore the milk subsidy for all school children, increase support for all school lunches and increase the subsidy for free and reduced price lunches for needy children.

The Ohio Department of Education said federal cutbacks coupled with soaring prices and food shortages have increased school lunch prices by 12 per cent this year.

The department said the federal milk subsidy has been reduced from $97 million to $25 million nationally for the current year.

Nixon Not Subject To Court Orders?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's lawyers were expected to argue before a nine-judge appeals court today that the president is not subject to court orders.

The lawyers hoped to convince the U.S. Circuit Court that Nixon cannot be compelled to turn over the White House tape recordings on Watergate sought by special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

The appeal stemmed from the Aug. 29 order by Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica that he be allowed to hear the tapes to determine what, if anything, should be turned over to the grand jury.

The appeals court Monday rejected a request from the Senate Watergate committee for time to present its own arguments as a friend of the court.

That left today's hearing a three-way argument over Nixon's attempt to nullify Sirica's decision, Cox's attempt to expand it, and support of Sirica's position by two law professors selected by the judge.

Surplus food commodities donated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are also expected to be cut by 50 per cent in value and variety, the department said.

Meanwhile, board member William M. Baker of Painesville asked that federal and state officials take the necessary steps to assure fuel for the schools.

Baker said a fuel shortage could effect heating and school bus operations this winter. He added that closing of many of the state's schools is a possibility.

The board adopted a resolution controlling the sale of food in competition with school lunch programs. The action brought the state into compliance with federal regulations.

The federal government requires that local boards of education participating in the National School Food Service Program not authorize food and beverage services for profit unless the proceeds go to the school's lunchroom fund.

Sirica said Monday he would welcome a court order permitting Cox to join him in listening to the tapes. In preliminary pleadings filed by his lawyers, he said he would welcome Cox's help "in determining whether any of the conversations might be legitimately privileged from disclosure."

In another development, the House voted 334 to 11 to initiate contempt action against Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy.

Liddy refused even to take the oath as a witness before a House intelligence subcommittee last July in its probe of alleged Central Intelligence Agency connections with Watergate.

He already is serving an eight-month contempt-of-court sentence for refusing to tell what he knows to the Watergate grand jury. After that term, he faces an 80-month to 20-year prison term for his conviction in the Watergate break-in.

Beef Price Situation Still Unstable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef marketers were confused Monday whether the cost of red meat on grocers' counters would go up or down now that federal price controls have been lifted.

First indications from the Livestock News Service in Columbus showed steers selling within a dollar per hundred pounds of last week's prices. In Cleveland, prices dipped from $1 to $2 from the previous week.

A Columbus spokesman said buying was slow Monday in order to establish a market.

Ohio meat packers predicted earlier a short dip in beef costs as a result of an expected flow of cattle to the market.

Before the controls ended, retailers weren't sure of the effects of the freeze lifting. Now that the guidelines are suspended, store owners still aren't sure of the result.

A spokesman for Cincinnati-based Kroger expected prices to rise. Big Bear in Columbus told shoppers beef costs would remain stable for two

12 Cambodian Officers Executed For Retreat

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — At least 12 officers in the Cambodian army were executed last Friday for ordering their troops to retreat before an enemy attack near besieged Kompong Cham, reliable sources reported today.

The executions were ordered after an inspection of Kompong Cham, Cambodia's third largest city 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, by Gen. Sosthene Fernandez, the commander in chief of the Cambodian army, the sources said. They reported he issued a general order to upper-echelon commanders to shoot anyone refusing to fight.

It was the first report of executions of Cambodian army officers for desertion in the face of the enemy in the three years of war in Cambodia.

The sources gave this account of the incident:

The officers were first lieutenants and captains who pulled their men back last Thursday during an attack by the Khmer Rouge insurgents on government defensive positions at the village of Balaing, two miles north of Kompong Cham.

The officers' general behavior under fire demoralized the troops under their command and resulted in high casualties among them.

The officers ordered the retreat without their men firing a shot at the Khmer Rouge and without consulting their superior officers.

At Kompong Cham today, the government forces were reported attacking the insurgents holding the southern part of the town in an attempt to catch the rebels in a pincer movement.

Col. Am Rong, the command's chief spokesman, said troops that landed on the Mekong River bank in the southern part of the town Monday were expanding their perimeter and had retaken a Buddhist pagoda.

The government claimed its men had captured a number of weapons abandoned by the Khmer Rouge insurgents, who also were being pressed by government forces attacking from the north.

North of the city, government artillery hit a Khmer Rouge ammunition depot in another pagoda and the munitions exploded for three hours, Am Rong said.

$280,000 Flows For Legal Fees

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's re-election committee has spent $280,000 in the past three months to defend itself and top officials in legal actions arising from the Watergate break-in and other campaign activities.

The committee, in its quarterly report to the General Accounting Office released Monday, listed $48,000 in legal expenses for finance chairman Maurice H. Stans.

Stans, former secretary of Commerce in the first Nixon term, was scheduled to go on trial today in New York along with former attorney general and Nixon campaign chief John N. Mitchell on charges arising from a secret $200,000 campaign contribution from financier Robert Vesco.

A committee spokesman said Stans' legal expenses have been paid in connection with various civil suits and grand jury and Senate testimony but not in the New York case.

Under a policy adopted last April, the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President says it will pay legal expenses of its current and former officials, but only up to the filing of formal criminal charges.

Stans reportedly has spent $100,000 out of his own pocket in the New York trial.

According to the quarterly report, Stans remains on the committee payroll at $1,500 per month.

The next largest payment for legal expenses was $28,750 to the law firm representing Jeb Stuart Magruder, former deputy campaign chief who pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice in connection with the Watergate break-in.

Another $24,495 in legal fees were paid for former campaign treasurer Hugh W. Sloan, who has appeared frequently before various grand juries and the Senate Watergate committee but apparently faces no charges.

The committee also reported paying $106,339 to two law firms that have represented the committee in general and some of its lesser officials in various civil actions, principally a suit for damages brought by the Democratic National Committee.

Legal fees for the past three months brought to $517,000 the total legal expenses of the Nixon re-election committee since the Watergate break-in on June 17, 1972.

In its quarterly report, the committee showed a cash balance of $4 million as of Aug. 31. It took in $564,000, mainly in close-out transfers from state committees, and spent $983,000.

Besides salaries and legal fees, the committee returned $395,000 in contributions, most of it from five corporations that admitted earlier this year to dipping illegally into corporate funds to make their donations.

Solons Study Nixon Plans For Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders promise to consider some of the proposals in President Nixon's State of the Union message but it appears doubtful that the legislators will act on all of them.

House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okl., said Monday, "We are willing to meet the President halfway," and maybe more than halfway on some matters.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the President "is not asking that we pass verbatim everything on his list and that we pass it all this year."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana met with committee chairmen Monday and scheduled another meeting for today to try to draw up a list of bills they hope to pass this year.

Despite Nixon's plea for less feuding, some Democrats said they would continue efforts to trim the administration defense budget and to enact social legislation Nixon opposes.

Speaking of Nixon's threat to veto any defense bill he considered dangerous to national security, Mansfield said Congress will "simplify that budget and maintain a strong defense posture" by cutting spending on "exotic weapons which in all too many instances turn out to be useless."

Woman Treed By Alligator

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Police report that a woman who asked them not to divulge her name was rescued Monday after a 10-foot alligator chased her up a tree.

She called for help, and a neighbor summoned police, who roped the reptile and helped the woman down.

Rangers from the State Parks & Wildlife Service arrived later and took the alligator to a marshy area from which, they said, it may have been forced by high water.

Connally Eyes 1976 Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Democrat John Connally has acknowledged he's thinking about running for the presidency in 1976 and says he will have to decide by 1975.

On the occasion of yet another welcome into the Republican party, the former Navy secretary, former Democratic governor of Texas, former Treasury secretary and former aide to President Nixon displayed great pleasure in dueling verbally with newsmen about his presidential intentions.

At a news conference after a day-long meeting of the Republican National Committee, at which GOP leaders expressed confidence that the Watergate scandal would not hurt their 1974 and 1976 prospects, Connally was asked whether he had thought about running.

"If you were asking me if I've thought of that possibility, I'll just stipulate that right now," he replied. Asked when he would have to decide, Connally replied that "any person would have to face that decision, I think, at some point in 1975."

"I'm not going to be a reluctant candidate if I decide to become one," Connally said. He said he would wage an all-out drive including contesting primaries if he decides to run.

General Telephone Settlement Near?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An official of the Communications Workers of America in Ohio said today a "last minute hitch" had temporarily delayed announcement of a settlement in the union's two-month-old strike of General Telephone Co.

Martin G. Hughes, CWA Dist. 4 vice president, said the union had been prepared to announce a tentative settlement to the strike, which began 56 days ago.

But he said there was a breakdown in negotiations as the announcement was about to be made.

As Hughes made the announcement,

Rolled Steel Price Boosts Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council has approved a two-stage increase in the price of steel that an official says will eventually raise the price of such products as home appliances and autos.

Major steel companies will be able to increase the price of flat rolled steel an average $4.50 a ton on Oct. 1 and again on Jan. 1, the council said Monday.

The steel companies had wanted the $9-a-ton increase all at once, beginning next week. The council said the full increase average about 4.8 per cent over the current $150 to $200-a-ton price.

Council director John T. Dunlop said, "In due course there will be some effect on consumer prices, but there are several stages of production before that will be possible."

At a public hearing two weeks ago, one steel company executive estimated the increases would hike the cost of autos by about $11.88, a 15-cubic-foot refrigerator by 56 cents and an ordinary toaster by 1 cent.

Dunlop said the steel companies had fully justified the proposed increases. He said the council felt there was no justification in trimming or denying them and only could delay them to spread the impact over a 3½-month period of time.

In another development, the council acknowledged Monday, in response to questions, that it had given the Ford Motor Co. permission to make some former optional features standard on its 1974 models.

These options reportedly amount to $64 per car and are in addition to the $74-per-vehicle increase the council granted Ford last Friday.

few days when western beef reaches Ohio.

"It is impossible to make any prediction," a spokesman for Kroger grocery chainsaid. "We have been losing money on beef. An adjustment in some areas is inevitable."

A spokesman for Super Duper Markets in Columbus said consumers would notice no immediate change after the price ceiling lift. Prices, he said, would depend on the market.

Though a spokesman for Big Bear said prices would not rise for at least officials from CWA locals in the state met behind closed doors in a nearby conference.

Just before the news conference, Ohio AFL-CIO President Frank King and other top union officials arrived for the CWA meeting.

Hughes told reporters he expects an announcement soon. He said agreement was "very close."

About 2,800 General Telephone employees walked off the job July 16. The strike has affected General Telephone service to customers in 70 counties served by the firm.

General Telephone has reported more than $1 million in damage to equipment during the course of the strike.

Several times, whole communities were without long distance or other service as supervisors tried to repair sliced cables.

The two sides met several times with a federal mediator, Howard Hughes, but seldom reported any progress. The last known negotiating session was more than a week ago.

Community officials in areas served by General Telephone went to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio Aug. 7 complaining the firm was not providing its 308,000 customers with adequate service.

The CWA had complained earlier that a request for a rate increase by General Telephone should be rejected because the firm wasn't providing adequate service.

3 Persons Die In Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Three persons died early today when a fire gutted the bedroom of a downtown Chillicothe home.

Firemen tentatively identified two of the victims as Norval Marshall, thought to be in his 70s, and Adeline Marshall, believed to have been in her 30s. The identity of a child killed in the blaze was not immediately determined.

Firemen said it appeared the three had died of smoke inhalation.

The fire apparently was touched off by a faulty electric blanket, firemen said.

The blaze was reported by a neighbor shortly before 7 a.m.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices moved lower today in moderate trading in a decline analysts said was prompted in part by profit taking and in part by worries over inflation and rising interest rates.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was down 7.22 at 884.11, while declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by nearly 3 to 1.

On the New York Stock Exchange, a block of 99,900 shares of Munford traded at 7, down 3/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the noon market-value index was down .87 at 100.45, while the NYSE index was down .51 at 55.10.

Other Big Board prices included Phillips Petroleum, down 1 1/4 to 51 1/2 after a recent comment by an analyst reducing his estimate of the company's North Sea reserves.

On the Amex, Syntex was off 1 1/2 to 93 1/2, and McCulloch Oil was down 3/8 to 4 3/4.

Carnival Begins At Orient State

Residents of Orient State Institute, largest institution for the mentally retarded in Ohio, began 9:30 a.m. Tuesday enjoying the annual carnival held at the institution for the residents and employees.

The festivities, lasting three days, will include residents and employees riding on floats and convertibles, enjoying country and western and popular music each night.

Other time will be spent riding rides and enjoying other carnival delicacies.

Every resident who is able to participate does, and is given rolls of tickets to use on the midway and for food.

Those confined to their cottages or the hospital can still enjoy the fun for the parade passes those buildings on the grounds.

"Orient's residents and employees work together with great dedication building floats for the parade and in all ways insuring the carnival's success," said Dr. Kenneth D. Gaver, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. "It's a good example of interaction on a one-to-one basis, a basic in the institution's humanizing processes."

Orient State is located in northern Pickaway County, where the carnival will last through Thursday.

Insurance Agents Support 'Don't Kill A Kid Month'

SAFETY CONCERNED—Ann Blyth, star of stage, screen, and TV, and mother of five, and 12-year old Kenley Anne Vispi, pose in front of "Don't Kill A Kid" poster, the symbol of the September "Don't Kill A Kid Month," proclaimed by Governor John J. Gilligan.

The Pickaway County Insurance Agents Assn. has launched a public service campaign to publicize the recent proclamation by Governor John J. Gilligan designating September as "Don't Kill A Kid Month" in Ohio.

The vivacious Ann Blyth, star of stage, screen and TV, along with 12-year old Kenley Vispi, participated in this statewide safety campaign Kick-off held recently in Columbus.

Richard E. Plum president of the County Agents Association stated that according to Eugene P. O'Grady, Director of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, 600 school-age children were killed in traffic-related accidents last year, and that through June, 1973, there have been 317 fatalities in this age group.

A massive volunteer campaign has been launched to reduce school area accidents through the cooperation of the Department of Highway Safety, the Ohio Department of Education, the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee, the State Highway Patrol, the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police, the Buckeye State Sheriffs Association, the Ohio Broadcasters Public Service Foundation and the Ohio Association of Insurance Agents.

O'Grady said that, nationally, over 4,000 children five to 14 years old died in 1972 traffic accidents. These tragedies accounted for nearly 25 per cent of the entire death toll in this age group.

KIWANIS SPEAKER — J. Alex Gordon, left, president of the Chillicothe Correctional Institute Jaycees, was the speaker at Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday. Gordon, introduced by Bruce Bell, right, told Kiwanians that if businessmen would take a more objective and positive attitude toward recognition of ex-convicts' skills and capabilities and their desire to make their own way through employment, it would be a major step toward the reduction of crime in the state. Members were reminded by David Gillespie, president, that the annual Kiwanis Party will be held next Monday at the Jack Wise Farm. John Edgar, a new teacher at Circleville High School, has been named Key Club adviser.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

What Bothers Senior Citizens?

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for asking us senior citizens what our biggest problems are, and if we have none, how we manage to enjoy life.

Just had my 74th birthday and never felt better in my life. I walk a mile a day, stay away from boring old people, desserts, and redheaded women. I enjoy a little nip every evening before dinner, but never touch a drop before noon, no matter who's celebrating what.

ART IN SIOUX CITY

DEAR ABBY: My biggest problem is finding enough time to do the many interesting and helpful things that retirement makes possible. I've been retired for two years and I am busier now than when I was working fulltime.

The secret of a happy old age is to try to forget the years, the infirmities, and to bury yourself in the service of others. Churches and community organizations are begging for help. Everyone can be a volunteer—even if he's bedfast. There is always someone worse off than you!

MRS. J.W.H., PHILADELPHIA
DEAR ABBY: I am 67 years old, and I am crazy. I got this way taking care of my mother who is 92. She is positively the most impossible woman who ever lived. Unfortunately, she is in better health than I am. I'd sign this but she'd kill me.

STUCK IN ENCINO

DEAR ABBY: My problem wasn't mentioned in your list. It's impotence, which causes many of us men to feel depressed and dejected. We loved our wives, but we can't perform. After the doctor completes our checkups, he smiles and says: "Sex is all in your head." That's humbug!

Here we are in Florida, home of the Fountain of Youth, but like Ponce de Leon, we can't find the well.

READY, WILLING, BUT NOT ABLE

DEAR ABBY: Now that I'm retired, I've never been happier. I went back to school and took German and typing and even a course in electricity. I've studied handwriting analysis, too. I re-roofed my own home, put up my own fence, and did my own landscaping. I do temporary office work, not because I need the money, but because I like to get out and see what's going on in the world. I've taken genealogy jaunts and compiled 23 notebooks on my family tree. One's mental attitude has a lot to do with one's energy. And having a great-grandmother who lived to be 101 didn't hurt either. (P.S. I'm a woman.)

MAKING OUT IN ORLANDO
DEAR ABBY: I'm only a kid of 92. Do I qualify for senior citizenship? I don't have any problems, but I've got a lot of relatives who are going to have plenty when I die. I'm leaving everything to the church.

GRANDPA IN PHOENIX

DEAR ABBY: My problem is controlling my anger when people refer to me as a "Senior Citizen." Whoever thought up that ridiculous label? I am 89 years old, and I'm still active. I keep my aches and pains to myself, take an interest in my home, and my church, and my community, and do what I can for the other fellow. That's all it takes to stay young.

HAPPY IN SUN CITY

DEAR ABBY: I am 83 and have no problems. Death took my two good wives. Did not dare to try for a third. Afraid I'd get a lemon. I bowl in four leagues and enjoy church. I give better than one tenth of my income to God because He lets me live well.

ANDY IN JOHNSON CITY, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: You ask senior citizens to tell you their troubles. Money? It's not stretching as far as it used to. Health? Even machines wear out. I live alone and make the best of it. Boredom? Not really. I sew, play cards, work crossword puzzles, watch TV, read a lot, and love to write letters. I also do my own housekeeping and take the bus to go places. I am only 82. I am also your late mother's cousin.

BERTHA RUSHALL MAC-FARLAND

DEAR ABBY: I'm an "older woman" who stands 5 feet 8 inches tall, and I cannot find a dress to cover my

Heating Fuel Pinch Seen For Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will fall millions of gallons short of the heating fuels needed during the coming cold weather seasons, the chairman of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio said Monday.

Edmund J. Turk said data collected by the PUCO shows Ohio will experience a shortage of about 27 million gallons of propane and about 50 million gallons of heating oil during the fall and winter months.

"This information, coupled with the already critical situation in the natural gas industry, indicates that very few, if any, retail dealers in propane and heating oil will be able to take on any new customers," Turk said.

The commission has been informed many retail dealers in central Ohio are experiencing shortages, Turk said.

One retailer, in fact, says he has rejected at least two prospective customers a day since receiving word in May that additional supplies would not be available.

"In the light of this, it is absolutely imperative that all Ohio residents contemplating the purchase or construction of a new residence should insure beforehand that an adequate supply of the appropriate fuel is available," Turk said.

He said prices also are up 60 to 80 per cent over 1972.

University Women Aid City Teachers

This is the tenth year the organization has helped with the program.

Copyright Breach

Legal limits copyrights do or should impose on the practice of photocopying is one of the questions that has contributed to the delays in congressional efforts to update the United States' 1909 copyright law. No solution appears in sight.

At recent hearings of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on patents, trademarks and copyrights two opposite points of view were presented. One, primarily by educators, seeks a general exemption to copy copyright works for educational purposes.

The other, representing the hard-pressed publisher's side, argues that photocopying should only be permitted if adequate controls and compensation can be assured.

Photocopying machines make it easy, quick and generally inexpensive to copy printed material from a book or magazine. But it's near disastrous from the point of view of many publishers, especially those of high cost, small-subscription materials such as scientific journals.

With general availability, there is no easy way to prevent anyone from making copies of the desired material. It's hard to visualize how the publishers of the copied material could conveniently be compensated.

Mudstorm Of '73

By JEFFREY HART

Everyone has heard of the Blizzard of '88. Well, the Mudstorm of '73 seems likely to achieve similar fame. The mudslinger may even supplement the gunslinger as one of our folk figures.

The plain fact is that for the last seven months President Nixon has been subjected to an extraordinary and uninterrupted barrage of accusations, one following another so quickly that analysis has been all but smothered.

On many of these allegations the evidence is not yet in. But on three important ones a verdict is now possible. Each produced screaming headlines. But on all three, the President is clean. A check-list:

1) San Clemente and other residence expenses. Here the President was supposed to be feathering his nest at the taxpayers' expense. This charge, many commentators said, was more damaging to Nixon than the vaguer Watergate business. The matter was routinely referred to as the San Clemente rip-off. The cartoonist Herblock had a glorious time.

But now the figures are out. Of the $10 million spent on the various sites, by far the biggest chunk ($5.9 million) was spent by the military for communications systems and other hardware, much of which is reusable. The General Services Administration spent $3.7 million on two large items: office complexes for President and staff at San Clemente; and security-related items. Landscaping expenses, so oohed and ahhed over, pertain legitimately to the latter. Such things as helicopter pads account for most of the rest.

To be sure, critics can fight over Nixon's cushions. The taxpayers bought them. If the room they are in is an office, then they are legit. If it's Nixon's "den" then he'd better ante up.

Still, the apologies have hardly been deafening from those who called Nixon a crook.

2) That famous 1970 domestic intelligence plan, intended to forestall bombings and other kinds of violence. It did call for illegal break-ins as well as wire and mail taps directed against groups known to be violent. This plan, it was said, brought us to the edge of a police state—to 1983. Nixon was a fascist. The chorus of mock-horror was loud in the land.

But now what every knowledgeable person has known all along has been spelled out for the benefit of all. Under certain circumstances such break-ins and wiretaps were regular FBI procedure for 40 years. They began under the administration of Franklin Roosevelt. They were used against foreign spies and foreign embassies, but also against organized crime and other targets.

Nixon's critics, Sen. Lowell Weicker prominent among them, are dripping with hypocrisy on this one.

3) The so-called secret bombing of Cambodia. As usually formulated, the charge against Nixon goes this way: The only point of the secrecy must have been to deceive the American people; after all, the Communists knew they were being bombed.

False. The point of the secrecy, it is obvious, was to save face for Sihanouk. The Prince could hardly have acquiesced—at least publicly—in such bombing. But he didn't protest, either. The borderlands thus hit were wholly under North Vietnamese control, and long had been so. They were "occupied territory." When we bombed occupied France during World War II, we were not attacking France. And bombing those sanctuaries and staging areas undoubtedly saved American and South Vietnamese lives.

So it goes. Try keeping your own check-list on the other scandals too. It's the only way to get through the Mudstorm of '73.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Jim Walter at 50 is a multimillionaire who makes success look worthwhile.

"Life is a joy to me," he remarked. "I quit working just for money a long time ago. I get a kick out of putting things together and making them work well."

The biggest thing he has put together is the Jim Walter Corp., a sprawling network of several companies and 125 plants which he expects will do a business of $1.1 billion in the building field this year.

The firm is now America's top producer of building materials and ranks fourth in the nation as a builder of homes.

Jim, a young truckdriver with only a 12th grade education, started the firm in 1946 with $400 he had saved and $400 he borrowed from his father.

"We started building shell houses — with the outside finished but the inside left for the owner," he recalled. "Our sale price ranged from $995 to $1,495."

"We succeeded because we had a good product and were lucky to be in the right place at the right time. A big building boom was just getting started. The same idea wouldn't succeed today because it has been done."

Jim sold about 250 homes and grossed $300,000 that first year. This year his firm will market between 8,000 and 9,000 more finished homes at an average price of $8,081 each.

Today, Walter, a graying six-footer with the exuberance of a cheerleader and the build of an athlete, could cash in his chips for $25 million, his associates believe. Jim himself figures he's probably worth nearer $20 million.

"It might depend on what day you look at the stock market returns," he said.

How did Walter succeed when hundreds of other small builders failed? Financial observers credit his organizing skill and his ability to get needed capital from big city bankers at critical junctures in his expansion program.

Jim, who is still his own best salesman, put it this way:

"There is a lot in persistence, in liking what you are doing, and in liking people and being able to judge them." His ability at picking talent is unquestioned. Half a dozen men who stayed with him over the years are now millionaires, too.

Although Jim is a breezy, informal man and likes to be on a first-name basis with people, he regards himself as a hardnosed businessman. So do the men who work for him. They know they have to produce or go, but that if they do produce they get a larger slice of the melon.

State Phone Use Curbed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The public information officer at the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services has been ordered to stop using the office and its phone to solicit Democratic Party contributions, the office director said.

Donald Sheehan said Monday he was instructed by Gov. John Gilligan to prohibit Nettie Manley from soliciting contributions over the office phone.

State Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, made public charges contained in a letter addressed to Gilligan and Bureau Director William Garmes.

Aronoff claimed Miss Manley publicized her office phone number in a newspaper as a source of information for pledging donations to a national Democratic Party telethon fund-raiser later this week.

Aronoff said he and an aide called Miss Stanley at her office and were asked to contribute "as much as you can."

This was the third young lady from Pickaway County to receive an award in three successive years. The other two girls were: Miss Mary Ruth Tolbert in 1926 and Miss Mary Elizabeth Rader in 1937. Both Miss Tolbert and Miss Rader were first place winners.

Approximately 5,000 persons attended the closing sessions at the Mount of Praise. An offering of $4,500 was taken for the construction of new dormitories and other buildings to accommodate crowds which were increasing each year.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

With all the "noise" about noise pollution, is there any danger in having the teeth cleaned with an ultra-sound machine?

Miss C. S., Wash.

Dear Miss S.:

Ultrasonic vibrations are being used for a variety of reasons in dentistry, in medicine, and in factories.

Ultra-sound cuts steel, glass, and jewels. It is used in surgery of the brain. It sometimes is beneficial to painful muscle spasms of the back and neck. It is used for the treatment of some cases of bursitis and arthritis.

Ultrasonic vibrations are considered a potent tool of limitless possibilities.

The application of this high sound mechanism is now successfully and safely used to remove tartar that accumulates at the base of the teeth.

Dr. Seymour Roth, a dental surgeon in New York City, in a personal communication to me, said, "This valuable mechanism is replacing many of the old dental techniques. Greater speed and comfort for the patient, in addition to more meticulous thoroughness, are its chief advantages."

Dr. Roth emphasizes that the patient's exposure to small doses of ultrasonic vibrations is minimal. Therefore, he says there is complete safety in its use.

Often ultrasonic vibrations are used in conjunction with conventional methods for cleaning of the teeth. The choice of either of these methods is excellent and, of course, depends on the dentist's individual evaluation of each of his patients.

NEW YORK (AP) — "The surest way for the new man to commit suicide is to do dramatically what he was hired to do—namely, bring in new ideas and a fresh burst of activity."

This is the professional opinion of psychologists and psychiatrists at the Organizational Behavior Institute, which counsels and trains executives on personal relationships and advises corporations on personnel matters.

Because they are launched on a floodtide of praise and feel compelled to maintain the momentum, very effective men drown shortly after being hired, said Dr. Mortimer Feinberg, president.

In attempting to demonstrate his abilities and success patterns, the new worker may polarize others into opposition. His colleagues view him as a rival and probably a reflection on their shortcomings.

Because the situation recurs regularly, the institute has devised

Postal Ads Said Reason Behind Rate Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Nebraska congressman says heavy advertising costs are one reason for increases in postage rates.

Rep. Charles Thone, R-Neb., said that if campaigns in seven cities are successful the postal service will buy an additional $15.3 million worth of national advertising this fiscal year.

"Postal Service advertising, its $3.2 million information program and its headquarters move from a building that was paid for to the swankiest new office complex in Washington are some of the reasons why second- and third-class postage rates just went up and letter postage will soon go from eight to 10 cents," said Thone.

A postal spokesman said the seven cities involved are Boston, Columbus, Ohio, St. Louis, Mo., Minneapolis-St. Paul, Houston, Tex., Dallas-Fort Worth, and Sacramento, Calif.

Only recently I learned that my belching and bloating was due to the fact that I swallow a lot of air while I am drinking beer.

Does this make any sense?

Mr. G. B., La.

Dear Mr. B.:

Everyone swallows a small amount of air while eating, drinking or smoking.

Occasionally, excessive amounts of air may be unconsciously swallowed by tense and anxious people. This condition is known as "aerophagia." Large bubbles of air can become trapped in the stomach and produce the sensation of fullness and bloat that you describe.

The pleasant foamy head of beer contains a great deal of air. When hurriedly drunk, especially in quantity, it can produce pressure on the diaphragm and pain in the chest.

When eating or drinking in an atmosphere of relaxation, less air is trapped, and greater comfort is assured.

Is it true that ear wax can sometimes cause a cough?

Miss E. A., Okla.

Dear Miss A.:

It is strange but definitely true that impacted wax can be responsible for a persistent cough.

A tiny nerve in the outer ear canal can stimulate the vagus nerve and sometimes produces a persistent cough.

Many doctors have observed the fact that even when they remove wax from a patient's ear, the patient sometimes will momentarily cough.

Union, Firm Clash Over Safety Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus Coated Fabrics and a union leader remained deadlocked today over implementation of an 11-point program to insure the safety of workers in the company's print shop.

About 100 workers walked off the job last week after 11 persons were treated for an ailment traced to the print shop operation. Doctors said they have peripheral neuritis, which causes weaknesses in the fingers, arms and legs.

The 11-point safety program includes a medical surveillance plan and ventilation procedures to handle the apparent cause, a new solvent being used to dye cloth. The program was proposed by a three-member medical team.

Joseph Recchi, director of employee relations for the company, said the firm has agreed to implement the program, but can't until all the employees return to work.

Corwin Smith, president of Local 487 of the Textile Workers of America said the workers will return when the program is implemented.

Smith said after a Monday session with the company, "At this point I am not optimistic about anything."

He said the union has sought legal advice on the possibility of a suit against the firm.

In addition to having her biography published in the book, she will also compete for one of the ten $1,000 scholarships funded by the publishers and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers."

Less than two per cent of the junior and senior class students nation-wide are awarded this recognition.

Red Novelist Rips Democrats For Hypocrisy

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Soviet novelist Alexander Solzhenitsyn in a letter published today in Norway's biggest newspaper accused U.S. Democratic party leaders of hypocrisy and likened recent years in the United States to the last years of the Czarist system in Russia.

Solzhenitsyn's blast, which was directed also at other Western critics of the Soviet government, was contained in a 3,000-word article in the conservative newspaper Aftenposten. The letter was written to nominate another noted Soviet dissident, H-bomb physicist Andrei Sakharov, for the 1973 Nobel Peace Prize.

Accusing the West of a double standard in judging recent events in the Soviet Union and in the West, Solzhenitsyn wrote:

"This deep hypocrisy is characteristic even of today's American political life, of the Senate leaders with their distorted view of the sensational Watergate scandal."

MRS. JAMES S. BEGIN

Bower-Begin Wedding Vows Exchanged In Garden Ceremony

Miss Ann Bower and Mr. James S. Begin were united in marriage 2:30 p.m., Aug. 25th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Bower, Route 1, Mt. Sterling. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Begin, Brentwood Lake Village, Grafton.

The Rev. Melvin R. Ritts officiated the single ring ceremony in the garden before an arch covered with ivy and pink roses flanked with arrangements of pastel daisies, asters, carnations and snapdragons with fern and ivy. Mr. Thomas C. Evans, grandfather of the bridegroom, was soloist for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon dotted sheer with vertical stripes of pansy print, designed with an empire bodice, scoop neckline and short puff sleeves.

The fitted waistline, with softly inverted pleats, fell into a full length skirt. Her pink picture hat was banded with grosgrain ribbon with a back bow and streamers. She carried a basket of white asters, daisies, rosebuds and baby's breath with fern and ivy.

Maid of honor was Miss Lynn Bower, twin sister of the bride. She was attired in a gown of blue crepe with ruffles framing the neckline and forming cap sleeves. She wore a blue picture hat with matching ribbon and streamers and carried a basket of asters, daisies and carnations with ivy and fern.

Mr. Howard J. Begin was best man for his son. Mr. Charles Bower Jr., brother of the bride, served as usher.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses for the bride's table were: Mrs. Gene Carrev. Mrs. Kenneth Towler and Miss Rebecca Conley. Miss Michele Conley was at the guest book.

The bride's mother selected for her daughter's wedding a formal length gown with a beige bodice and floral print skirt.

The bridegroom's mother wore a formal gown of blue, tan and white print with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of carnations and pink rosebuds.

The bride received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Ohio University and is a former teacher at Westfall High School. She is currently an administration specialist for the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation in Columbus.

The bridegroom received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. He served two years in the U.S. Army. He received his Juris Doctor degree from the Ohio State University College of Law and is employed as an attorney-examiner by the Department of Taxation, State of Ohio.

On return from their wedding trip to northern Michigan and Canada the couple will reside at 692 Riverview

Using "Securing And Sharing Knowledge" as a guiding theme, the following officers made plans for continuing responsibility: Leora Sayre, president; Marie Gibson, vice president; Elsie Wright, secretary; Vandalia Corcoran, treasurer and Mrs. Lemmings, sunshine chairman.

Greetings to all members were prepared to send to Mrs. Wright who is a patient in Mt. Carmel Medical Center, Columbus.

In answering roll call each member told of a particular day when she attended school.

With Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Sayre serving as leaders, the program "Books And Papers To Aid Gardens And Gardening" was presented by narrated colored slides.

Interest and knowledge was increased concerning the Pickaway County Program of Mental Retardation which provides service through four training outreaches: developmental Pre-School, Brooks-Yates School, Sheltered Workshop and Home Training.

The meeting concluded with the reading "Where The Laugh Comes In" by Mrs. Lemmings. Refreshments of cake, ice cream and tea were served by the hostess and Dorothy Lemmings.

Even with the excitement of school starting there exists a bit of sadness at the Dale and Mary Jane Elliott homestead since their exchange son Carlos Rodriguez returned last week to his native Mexico after being with them for the past two months.

While Carlos was here, the Elliotts and their children journeyed to Lake Erie for a spot of vacation and several historical places in and around our locale. The twelve days before school started found Bridget Elliott tripping all over Florida with her grandpa and grandma Denning. They "took in" Disney World and all the other tourist bit.

Taking advantage of the three day Labor Day holiday and enjoying a fabulous respite from the daily

Ruling Planned On State Help To Vo-Ed Schools

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Wyandot County Prosecutor Forrest Bacon said he expects a ruling next week on a motion to dismiss a suit challenging the constitutionality of vocational schools receiving state support.

Common Pleas Court Judge Harold Masson took the motion under consideration after hearing E. Dennis Barnes of Upper Sandusky complain that Ohio law provides for the funding of a "common school system." Barnes contended vocational schools are not under that classification.

Masson said he would rule on the merits of the suit, filed in July against the city's board of education and state officials, without hearing further arguments.

A hearing was held in late July at which time representatives of the attorney general's office claimed the General Assembly has the power to provide for vocational schools.

chores were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Riffle and Mr. and Mrs. William Clemmons. The two couples drove down to Nashville, Tenn., and thrilled to the music of many outstanding country western stars who were appearing at the new "Opery Park" which is adjacent to the under construction new Grand Ole Opry House. This will replace the existing structure in downtown Nashville.

Our vacationers enjoyed both the afternoon and evening shows and saw (among others) Roy Acuff, Dolly Parton, Porter Waggoner, Marty Robbins, Bill Anderson and Grandpa Jones' wife.

Our "above and beyond the call of duty" badge goes to Charley Picklesimer who had to tolerate not one but three "Miller girls" in his household Labor Day week end. Jean Miller Markel of Chillicothe and Helen Miller Stant of Whisler Sunday overnights with sister Esther Miller Picklesimer and while the families frequently have get togethers it was the first time in a long time that the three sisters had been together sans family so it was into the wee hours of the morning they chattered and chattered and had one big "ball".

Meanwhile breadwinner Charley is trying valiantly to ignore all the shenanigans and get his rest before arising for the days' labors. We all feel for you Charley!

On Monday evening the Picklesimers entertained Mike and Gail Stauffer and sons Brent and Andy of Kinnikinnick to dinner out in honor of the Stauffers sixth wedding anniversary.

Birthdays come and birthdays go but the one celebrated by this writer on Tuesday past (Sept. 4) will have a happy glow for some time because late that evening it was our happiness to receive a call from our exchange son Fernando Maya from Quito, Ecuador. The entire family got in the act and had a chat, too. What a joy it was to hear son Fernando's voice. He said he and his mother are planning to come to Williamsport in October and now we can hardly wait!

Mrs. Michael Pitt was one surprised expectant mother when she arrived at the home of Mrs. John Reisinger last Friday and discovered a baby shower was being given in her honor.

Helping plan the big surprise with Mrs. R. were Mrs. Frank Reisinger and Mrs. Dick Lugenbeel Jr. Adding to the happy occasion were guests Mrs. George Donohew and Lori, Mrs. Ray Reisinger, Mrs. Darrell Wisecup, Mrs. Charles Pitt, Mrs. Steve Pitt, Mrs. Dick Lugenbeel, Sr., Mrs. Richard Reisinger and Rex, Mrs. Joe Fenneken and Gene, Mrs. Willard Conley and Rhonda, Mrs. Sam Colter and daughters, Miss Kathy Kneee, the hostesses, also Tammy and Dick Lugenbeel.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Alfred Terflinger, Mrs. Esther Reed, Mrs. Joe Cottrill and Miss Cheryl Cottrill.

The Festival committee is quite excited this year about Saturday's offering of "Pay $1 ride all you want" from noon until 5 p.m. Also there will be a flea market and antique engine show on Saturday and Sunday at the Williamsport school grounds.

New for '73 is the Baby Parade and Contest to be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. at the Pavilion area. Age groupings are: up to 1 year; 1 year-2 years; 2 years-3 years; 3 years up to but not including 4 years.

A number of new concessionaires have been added to the midway which will add "spice" to the gala event.

The talent contest always provides much entertainment and this will take place at 7:30 Thursday night.

4-H Rumlbers Bicyclists will compete for the three top scoring honors beginning at 7 p.m. on Friday evening. Come out and observe these "kids" taking their bikes through some very intricate maneuvers. Throughout the five days the volunteer firemen will be frying fish. If this isn't your "bag," then the Westfall Booster Booth will offer a variety of sandwiches and the Sorosis will be serving their delicious homemade pie and naturally there will be other "goodies" to be had.

American Legion Auxiliary will "man" a booth selling all kinds of useful, decorative articles as well as festival souvenir items most of which will be collectibles. Put this all together, add fabulous rides, season with the fun of meeting and greeting new and old friends and what more could you want? American Legion bingo? Sure, it will be in full swing every night but Sunday.

How can you not come to our third annual Williamsport Sulphur Spring Festival with all these happenings?

Mrs. Ruth Shipe of Macon, Georgia, Mrs. Edna Newhouse (who celebrated a birthday on Sept. 6), Mrs. Fred Tipton and son Tom enjoyed each other's companionship and dinner out last Friday evening.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Shipe, Mrs. Phoebe Smiley and "us" Easterdays had dinner at Wardell Party Home. Ruth, who has been with her mother (Mrs. Smiley) for the past month, will be leaving for her Georgia home in the next few days and Mrs. S. will be going with her. Also at the Smiley home on Saturday evening was a friend of many years from a distant city here in Ohio who wished to remain anonymous for reasons of her own—is this o.k., you know who? She gets the Herald so I don't dare blab! How I would love to!

Reds Open Clash With L.A. Dodgers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hal King, one of the forgotten faces in the Cincinnati Reds' rush to the top of the National League Western Division, said playing for "the best team in both leagues" brings out the best.

"Other teams have just nine players. We have people here we can shuffle around and win," said King.

The Reds open a two-game showdown with the skidding Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was King's dramatic pinch-hit home run against the Dodgers that Cincinnati fans are labeling the turning point of 1973 for the Reds.

It was July 1, one of the hottest days of the summer at Riverfront Stadium, when King pumped pride back into the sagging Reds. He hit a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning to keep the Reds from falling 12 games behind the Dodgers.

The Reds went to win three out of four in the series that ignited their hottest month in history. By winning 24 of 31 games in July, Cincinnati rejoined the race.

The fierce rivalry is renewed tonight, with Cincinnati leading Los Angeles by three games.

King joined the Reds in June, coming from the Texas Rangers — the losingest team in baseball this season.

"I was confident I'd get another chance. At first it was a big letdown. I knew I wasn't going to play that much here — not with the best catcher in the world here," said King.

The 28-year-old Florida native repaid Manager Sparky Anderson's confidence with pinch-hit homers in his first two at-bats.

"We knew he could swing the bat," said Anderson, who went shopping for power help when the Reds' hitting plummeted to a league-low .235 in mid-June.

Brockington Rated Best By Bergy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals center linebacker Bill Bergy rates Green Bay's John Brockington the No. 1 runner in the National Football League.

"And behind him is MacArthur Lane," said the brawny, mustachioed 243-pound native of South Dayton, N.Y. He winced in the locker room Saturday night as he drew a towel over his back. The former Arkansas star had an abrasion on his shoulder blade resembling a cleat mark.

"Put this down," said Bergy, jabbing the air with his finger. "I rate John Brockington as the best running back in the league. Right behind him put Lane—one, two."

Bergy was credited with a game-leading eight tackles in the winning Cincinnati effort over the bruising Green Bay Packers, 13-10, the final exhibition game for both clubs.

"I've played against a lot of running backs," said Bergy, now in his sixth pro season, "but these guys are the best."

USC Tops College Grid Poll

BY HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, seeking their third national college football crown in four years, moved up today to challenge defending champion Southern California in The Associated Press' first regular-season poll.

Fourth in the preseason rankings, Nebraska shot up to second place past idle Ohio State and Texas on the strength of a 40-13 opening-game rout of UCLA. The setback dropped the Bruins from 10th to 16th.

Southern Cal, which opens this Saturday night against Arkansas, received 49 first-place votes and 1,168 points from the 61 sports writers and broadcasters who participated in this week's poll. Nebraska picked up eight first-place ballots and 1,121 points. The spread between the two in the preseason poll was 475 points.

Two first-place votes went to Ohio State, which dropped from second to third with 838 points. Texas went from third to fourth with 819 points.

Michigan held on to fifth place with one first-place vote and 683 points while Alabama, Penn State, Notre Dame and Tennessee retained the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth spots. Penn State got the other No. 1 vote. Idle Colorado, tied with Oklahoma for 11th in the preseason balloting, moved up to 10th, replacing UCLA. Oklahoma was 11th, followed by Auburn, Arizona State, Florida and Louisiana State, who each climbed one spot to the 12-13-14-15 positions. UCLA, now 16th, was followed by the holdover 17-18-19-20 teams from the first poll—North Carolina State, Houston, North Carolina and Texas Tech.

N.C. State, the only other member of the preseason Top Twenty to see action over the weekend, drubbed East Carolina 57-8.

Blackouts Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a good chance that pro football fans in Miami, Chicago, Denver and the nation's capital, among other cities, will be able to watch their local heroes on television Sunday in the opening of the 1973 National Football League season.

The House Commerce Committee takes up legislation today to lift the local television blackouts of sold-out home pro football games.

The Dolphins, Bears, Broncos and Redskins are among 12 of the 26 NFL clubs that sold out their stadia during the 1972 season and thus would have been required to televise their home games locally if the law had been in effect last year.

The House communications subcommittee needed less than 15 minutes Monday to approve a measure, sponsored by its chairman, Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass., to prohibit blackouts if the game is a sellout 72 hours in advance.

"YOUR GAS RANGE HELPS YOU CONSERVE ENERGY AND SAVE MONEY."

"Conservation is important today, as the nation faces an energy crisis. Help fight waste of our vital resources right in your own kitchen by using these gas-saving cooking tips . . . and save money, too. I encourage you to start now to do your share."

Betty Newton

The instant-on, instant-off control of your gas range means less wasted heat before and after cooking, and just naturally saves gas and money. Cooking seldom requires a high flame for very long. Use a low one when it will do just as well.

When cooking vegetables, use as little water as possible and cover the pan to speed cooking.

While you can use almost any type pan or pot on a gas range, those with flat, smooth bottoms cook faster with less chance of burning the food inside.

Pre-heat your oven only when it's necessary. And when you do, five or ten minutes is all it takes. Setting the temperature higher than you want won't pre-heat the oven any faster.

Opening the oven door loses heat and wastes gas and money. Make good use of your timer or oven window to avoid opening the oven door too frequently.

Good maintenance, including periodic cleaning, assures more economical and efficient operation. Proper adjustment of burners to a blue flame is an important maintenance check. Clean burner ports is another. Your gas range manual has complete instructions.

New Gas Range

If you're thinking of replacing your old gas range now, remember that you needn't worry about your home gas supply. A new, modern gas range helps conserve gas because it's more efficient. It offers automatic controls, better insulation and other gas-saving features.

Aaron Pounds Out 710th Homer

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer
Neither wind, nor rain nor Don Carrithers could stay Hank Aaron from No. 710...but stomach cramps kept the Atlanta slugger from his next appointed round tripper.
Aaron posted his 710th career homer in the third inning off a Carrithers' delivery, leaving him just four short of Babe Ruth's record 714. But in the fourth he ran into something not on the Giants' roster and had to leave the game.

"Hank had severe stomach cramps so they took him to a doctor," Manager Eddie Mathews said after his club knocked off the Giants 10-4 Monday night. "The doctor called about 11 and said he was okay."
Actually, against that opponent Aaron was defenseless.

He couldn't use his bat.
Elsewhere in the abbreviated National League schedule, Pittsburgh pounded Chicago 11-3 and San Diego tripped Houston 5-3.
Stomach trouble got Aaron out which was something the Giant pitchers couldn't do. Aaron singled in the first off Juan Marichal for his 99th hit of the season before reaching the century total on his 37th homer of the season.

Up Is Only Way For Saints To Go

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It's a little hard for Coach John North to say how good the New Orleans Saints will be in 1973, since he barely knows who his players will be.
There are two reasons for this:
—North was named head coach just two weeks before the regular season opener with Atlanta.
—The Saints are weak in so many areas North will likely pick up several new players as they are cut from other teams in the final days before the season opens.
One thing is certain, however. The Saints can't be much worse than they were last season, when they stumbled to a 2-11-1 record, getting bombed out of contention in the first half of many of the losses.
"We have some good football players, but not enough of them," said North. "We're going to make some mistakes, but we're going to win some games. We think we've got enough good players to win some games."

"Other teams will be cutting people we think are pretty good football players as they get down to their final 40-man squads and I'm going to do anything I can to strengthen this team," he added. "We've picked up some of those players and we may add some more."
North has his players working harder in practice but apparently liking it more than they did under J.D. Roberts, his ousted predecessor.
North's more outgoing personality also is evident in his dealings with the press, which never took to Roberts.

Don Maynard Joins Cards; Jets Get Unnamed Pick

By HOWARD SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Rookie Coach Don Coryell has St. Louis putting the football in the air more often than ever before this year, and who better to join the pass-happy Cardinals than pro football's all-time leading receiver, Don Maynard.
The Cards acquired Maynard from the New York Jets Monday for an undisclosed draft choice and were delighted to get him.
"He wants to play football and he's happy to come to St. Louis," said Joe Sullivan, director of operations for the team. "We feel he'll help our ballclub in many ways."
Maynard, a 36-year-old veteran of 15 pro campaigns, is being counted on to help tutor the Cards' youthful receiver corps which includes speedsters Mel Gray, Bobby Moore and Walker Gillette. And if he should catch an occasional pass here and there, just to show the youngsters how it's done, the Cards wouldn't mind a bit.
Maynard has been on the receiving end of 632 passes for 11,816 yards during his career and he's scored 88 touchdowns.
Green Bay Coach Dan Devine declared Scott Hunter his starting quarterback for Sunday's game

Ali Wins By Whisker

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — One round saved Muhammad Ali from oblivion and will bring the boxing world what it once thought would be the greatest fight ever—Ali versus Joe Frazier.
That fight, in the advanced planning stages, will gross more than a million dollars but Ali showed it will be a fight between a pair of has-beens.
George Foreman knocked out Frazier in two rounds and Ali needed everything he still possessed to win the 12th round at the Forum on Monday night. That won a split decision over Ken Norton.
If he had lost, the era of Ali in boxing would have ended. Norton had beaten him, breaking Muhammad's jaw, last March 31, and the San Diego puncher landed the harder blows in the rematch.
Virginia's football team will have 17 starters back this fall.

Cincinnati Bengals Pick Up Van Galder

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals have picked up former St. Louis Cardinal quarterback Tim Van Galder and have placed injured backup quarterback Virgil Carter on the reserve list.
"It's a major blow," said coach Paul Brown Monday. "We don't even have a week to work with Van Galder before heading into our season opener."
Participants in the first All-Star baseball game include former managers Bill Terry, Jimmy Dykes and Joe Cronin. Cronin is now American League president.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much activity present early. The remainder of the day and evening favors completing tasks already started, but not good for beginning anything new or taking chances that might upset any conditions now in operation.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get at all those tasks ahead of you early so you free time for a romantic and happy evening. Sit down with an adviser who understands your new plans, and can give right pointers. Control your temper.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make those plans early with close friends and attachment for some important activity, then get into the details thereof. Make sure you know what some new contact really wants of you. Think along very logical lines.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure you keep promises made to others whether in your regular occupation, in personal matters, or with the public. Show you are conscientious. Don't begin that new civic venture just yet.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to the ideas of others and see where they can fit into your own particular set-up. You may get that information you need through the mail and can use it quickly. Then study other letters later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Attend to all obligations efficiently and please those concerned. Follow your early intuition for greater success in the future. Later your hunches are not so good, so forget them. Forget radical ideas, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen carefully to what a partner has to suggest, since it could prove most profitable to you both. Do not listen to what one who opposes you has to say, or you could lose your temper. Keep aloof.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get into all those duties ahead of you early and they are soon completed successfully. Add to present prestige. Any difficult problems can be solved easily and you can benefit much from them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you plan early, you can have that recreation you have been seeking for some time. You have to whittle those creative ideas down to a workable level now. Make sure you do not spend extravagantly tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do those things that will improve home conditions; make everything there more functional. Handle any public or philanthropic matters efficiently. Show you are an excellent citizen. Use logic in all you do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan early and then go about seeing those key persons who can help make your future brighter. You can gain some personal goal now that has been difficult before. Do more talking.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You now know just how to add to present income as well as cut down on expenses, so full speed ahead on that. Talk affairs over with experts and bankers and get their advice. Follow to the letter.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you state diplomatically what you desire of others, you find they cooperate very readily. Entertaining bigwigs can bring excellent backing. Avoid one who is jealous of you and save yourself trouble later on.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young charmers whose early life can be most happy and carefree, so be sure to provide excellent courses of instruction, give musical lessons or art, and an opportunity to compete in sports so this clever mind will be kept busy and much will be learned, and the right foundation for life will be properly laid. Anything of an investigative, research nature is good, for there is a really fine scientist in this chart. Teach early not to criticize others.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC's new situation comedy contenders, "Lotsa Luck" with Dom DeLuise and "Diana" with Diana Rigg, have begun their Monday night ratings battles against CBS' "Gunsmoke" and ABC's "The Rookies."

If its scripts hold up, "Lotsa Luck" will survive. Its debut show marked a turning point in situation comedy. It revived the belly laugh.

"Diana," in which Miss Rigg plays an English divorcee seeking a new life as a New York fashion coordinator, may have problems. It had a few laughs, but Miss Rigg's considerable talent seemed wasted.

About "Lotsa Luck," now: DeLuise is cast as a clerk in the lost-and-found department of a bus line. That's fare enough. But Monday's show swirled around a broken flush tank in the bathroom of his home.

This was a historic premise, particularly when you consider that Jack Paar once stomped off the "Tonight" show because NBC wouldn't let him joke about a water closet. Yes indeed, times have changed.

The thread of Monday's show was that DeLuise's sister, who'd broken the flush tank by accident, had a birthday coming up. DeLuise, who'd been saving to buy a new television set, wound up buying her a new toilet.

Stay with us now. I can explain everything. This plot, in the hands of hacks, would be instant doom. But the troops on "Lotsa Luck" are solid comedy professionals and somehow everything works. It isn't precisely high comedy, but it is precision low comedy with a fast, crazy pace and lots of mugging and sight gags. It bears the distinct mark of Carl Reiner, who with Bill Persky and Sam Denoff, adapted the series from a British television hit, "On the Buses."

DeLuise is a fine comic actor and gets better all the time. His colleagues in "Lotsa Luck" are equally good.

There's a similarly talented cast on "Diana," but that's where the similarity ends. The writing is competent, but no more.

The premiere plot had Miss Rigg moving into her brother's New York apartment, then finding a job. The brother is absent, but he has given the key to the place to everyone but John Lindsay. Strange folks, including a great Dane, come and go. Correction: the great Dane stays, that lucky dog. There's much turmoil, but Miss Rigg has little more to do than recite ho-hum lines and look amused.

She could use better lines. She's an excellent, versatile actress, as she's proved both on the stage and as Emma Peel in "The Avengers." She gave "Diana" a good try, but the program's biggest flash came from Richard Mulligan, who played a daft television writer. I wish he'd written the show.

METRIC MUSTANG — Mustang II is a second generation edition of one of the world's most famous automobiles. It is 19 inches shorter than the 1973 Mustang and seven inches shorter than the original Mustang. It is available in two body styles and four models, the most luxurious of which is the Ghia two door, four-seat "notchback" sedan. Standard equipment includes front manual disc brakes, rack-and-pinion steering, four-speed manual transmission, bucket seats, cut-pile carpeting and a 2.3 liter four-cylinder engine. Optional engine is a 2.8-liter V-6 powerplant.

Debut Of 1974 Fords Scheduled Sept. 21

Mustang II, the most changed car in the auto industry this year, will debut along with other new 1974 Ford cars and trucks at Rod Bell Motor Sales, 586 N. Court St., Sept. 21.

The Mustang II is a small, sporty and luxurious car that Ford expects to be the forerunner of a new class of cars. It is 19 inches shorter than the 1973 Mustang and seven inches shorter than the original Mustang introduced in April, 1964.

"With the growth of the small car market, Mustang II seems to be coming at the right time," said Jim Houseman, Vice president of the dealership.

"It brings to the booming small car market the luxurious touches and smooth ride of much larger, more expensive cars," he said.

"Mustang II is a car for the Seventies. The gas mileage of its base engine is especially timely in these days of gas shortages, and the small size and handling make it an especially maneuverable car," Houseman said.

Standard engine for Mustang II is Ford's new 2.3-liter (140-cubic-inch), four-cylinder overhead-cam powerplant, the first metric engine ever built in the United States. Optional is the 2.8-liter (171-cubic-inch), V-6 engine built by Ford of Germany. Mustang II will be the only U.S. car to offer V-6 performance in a small car.

Included as standard equipment on Mustang II are front bucket seats which provide exceptional lateral support, cut-pile carpeting for the floor and lower door, tachometer and full instrumentation, simulated burled walnut accents, European arm rests and door pulls, and full-width headrests.

Also standard are rack-and-pinion steering, front disc brakes, and a unique sub-frame that provides a big-car ride that helps isolate noise, vibration and harshness from the passenger compartment.

Mustang II offers 45 options, including a digital clock, sunroof, AM-FM multiplex radio and stereo tape, air conditioning, left and right-hand remote control mirrors and steel-belted radial-ply tires.

Among the other Ford car lines, Torino receives the biggest change with new front and rear bumpers, grille, taillights and new sheet metal in the rear. Also available on Torino are luxury interiors, a large 460-cubic-inch V-8 engine, sunroof, opera window on two-door models, and fender skirts.

All Fords, Thunderbirds and Torinos, equipped with the 460- or 400-c.i.d. engines will feature solid state ignition. A new front seat occupant restraint—starter interlock system will be on all models to provide greater driver and passenger protection.

New options, refinements on light trucks and expanded heavy truck engine availability highlight Ford Division's truck lineup for 1974.

The pickup, new in 1973, has new features for added versatility. They include the 460-4V V-8 engine, optional for the first time in all pickup models, and the two-seat, four-door crew cab F-250 and F-350 available for the first time as a regular production item.

Ranchero has a new front end and new options for greater luxury and performance. The 1974 Bronco retains its 92-inch wheelbase and standard two-wheel-four-wheel-drive. A new engine option, the 300-IV Six, for the E-100 and E-200 Club Wagon and Van, highlight new Econoline features. The 1973 Courier, introduced in May, is carried over into 1974.

In heavy trucks, the NTC-350-horsepower diesel is newly available for the W-9000 and LT-9000 trucks. The V-555 medium-duty 210-h.p. diesel is optional for all 8000-series trucks beginning in October. Ford's C-6 automatic transmission is a new option on the C-600 medium truck.

Nixon Would Tap 'Ghost' Oil Field

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Elk Hills naval oil reserve that President Nixon wants to tap to alleviate the energy crisis is virtually a ghost field. But oil sources say it could be in production within 60 days after a go-ahead signal.

The 70-square-mile reserve, located 10 miles north of Taft in the San Joaquin Valley, is considered the largest inland accumulation of oil in California and is among the five largest known U.S. oil reservoirs.

It was established in 1912 by President William Howard Taft to be used only in time of war.

Nixon told Congress on Monday that production from the 1.2-billion-barrel pool beneath the Central California desert is needed to ward off a heating oil shortage on the West Coast next winter.

He said his representatives "will seek the necessary consultations with members of Congress in order to increase production of oil from Elk Hills."

During World War II, 27 million barrels of oil were produced at Elk Hills.

Capt. George P. Dowd, commander of Elk Hills, said the reserve's 1,032 existing wells have been kept near-operational and could be producing 160,000 barrels a day within 60 days.

Only 2,500 barrels of oil a day are now being pumped to maintain underground pressure and keep equipment in working order.

Of that amount, 80 per cent is sold by the Navy. Standard Oil Co. of California, which holds a lease on a portion of the reserve, gets the other 20 per cent for running the facility for the government. Standard has 78 men working at the reserve. The Navy has between 20 and 30 men there.

Marriage Ceremony Marks Couple's Entry Into Army

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jimmy Lee and Jacqueline Peck are now husband and wife, and they're off for Army basic training, at separate camps. But the military says better days are ahead for the couple.

Municipal Court Judge Ronald Swearing, an Air Force Reserve officer, married the two at an Army recruiting station Monday — and then signed both up for service with Uncle Sam.

"The recruiter kinda thought of it, and I kinda went along," said Lee, a 20-year-old with dark shoulder-length hair and a brush mustache. "I guess it's a pretty big occasion in my life."

Lee enlisted for four years as an infantryman. His wife, 19, enlisted for three years as a telephone operator. The two have known each other since high school days in suburban Alhambra.

The ceremonies took place at the Armed Forces building in a small conference room crowded with newsmen and Army information specialists. Two recruiting sergeants were best man and maid of honor.

"I used to want a formal wedding," said Jackie. "But if you're married, you're married."

Lee will take 16 weeks of basic and advanced training at Ft. Ord, Calif., while Jackie's initial assignment will be to Ft. Mc Clellan, Ala. After that, the Army promised, they both will be assigned to duty at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Army spokesmen said a growing number of young marrieds are enlisting together in the armed forces, although statistics were unavailable.

Swearing said it was his first such double ceremony, but he said enlistment of married couples "seems to be very much a trend."

"They get the base of their choice, and they can combine their two incomes. It works like a charm," he said.

Hoosiers Also Face Serious Fuel Shortage

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Otis R. Bowen's energy expert will be dispatched on a statewide "politicizing tour" next week to arouse seemingly apathetic Hoosiers to the gravity of the energy crisis.

Robert C. Morris, chairman of Bowen's Energy Conservation Committee, said the two-day trip will take him to six Indiana cities, where he will hold news conferences to stress the fact that the state faces a serious fuel shortage this winter.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A temporary restraining order has blocked an attempt by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control to look into the financial interests of the state's 24,000 liquor permit holders.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Fred Shoemaker Monday issued the order at the request of the Ohio License Beverage Association. The order will remain in effect until a hearing is held in November.

The permit holders faced a Sept. 17 deadline in answering the questionnaires. The questionnaires were to be returned with renewal permit applications, which are still due on that date.
